CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men of affairs, as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and this blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade.

The Presidential Election; the efforts of Congress with no fixed purpose; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests, to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Plenty. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and the safeguard therefrom.

As well known, the Daily Enquirer is the largest in size and highest priced paper in the United States, yet cheapest, measured by quality and quantity.

The Weekly Enquirer, with the cream and digest of all the news, able and conservative editorials, market reports, methods and results from Government and State Experiment Stations, veterinary matters, People's Forum, choice literature, short and continued stories, non-sectarian sermons, general information, etc., with the exclusion of all matters of scandal and immorality, is today the Cleanest Weekly Family Journal obtainable. Each issue is alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

Solicitors for subscriptions make a handsome profit and increase the good influence of The Enquirer in the uplift of morality and industry, and for the betterment and welfare of the community. For terms write to The Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

GIRL IS HELD FOR INCITING A MOB

Nebraska Young Woman Charged With a Cruel and Most Unusual Crime.

PLOTTED A LYNCHING

Four Ranchmen Hanged Her Sweetheart, and It Is Said the Girl, Believing She Would Get $7,000 Insurance, Planned It.

Valentine, Neb.—Eunice Murphy, of this place, the girl accused of having incited a mob to hang her fiancé in order that she might inherit his life insurance, has been held for the district court. The presiding judge declared that Miss Murphy is just as guilty as the men who took her sweetheart to a tree and hanged him.

Silent to all but her attorneys, despondent, but dry-eyed, Miss Eunice Murphy is composedly waiting in her jail cell the day when she shall be called to trial as accessory to the atrocious murder of Charles Sellers, her suitor.

To all appearances an unsophisticated country girl, the young woman is intelligent enough to keep quiet about her affairs. She is charged with inciting her fiancé, George Weed, his brother Alma, her cousin and former fiancé, Larry Heath, and her brother, Kenneth Murphy, to their cruel attack upon a man who had for three years sought her hand in marriage. Avarice is alleged as the motive.

Thus are all the elements of a melodrama present in her case. Taking advantage of them, she might, with a newspaper interview, clothe herself with all that morbid glamor so dear to a sensation-loving public. Yet she prefers to keep her own counsel, refusing to make the simplest statements about the affairs and referring all questioners to her lawyers.

The hanging of Sellers, June 18, by some of his neighboring ranchmen near Cody, Neb., created a sensation for a time, but when four men charged with the crime were put in jail and bound over to the district court, the excitement subsided. Now it is charged by John M. Tucker, county attorney, that Miss Murphy incited and procured the murder of Sellers, her alleged motive being to get possession of $7,000 of insurance policies and considerable personal property which she is said to have believed would be bequeathed to her upon the death of Sellers.

At the time of the killing of Sellers, it was rumored that one man in the party that hanged him to a telegraph pole was inspired by jealousy, he being a suitor of the girl.

Hutch Jack and Sellers, who lived together, were awakened one night by a knock on the door by George B. Weed. Jack knew Weed and invited him into the house. Weed had said he was making a social call. Weed asked Sellers, who was in bed in an adjoining room, to get up and come into the room where Jack and Weed were, but Sellers excused himself by saying he was not feeling well. Fifteen minutes later, Jack says, a party of men, composed of Kenneth Murphy, Harry Heath and Alma Weed, came to the Jack home. They were armed and they covered Jack and commanded him to remain in the room where he was. George Weed told Sellers to get up.

"We are after you," he said, according to the affidavit of the county attorney. Sellers arose and Harry Heath is alleged to have thrown a rope around his neck and pulled it tight, and George Weed, Heath, Murphy and Alma Weed are charged with having dragged Sellers out of the house to a nearby telephone pole and hanged him.

Horses in Nail-Studded Car.

Savannah, Ga.—For transporting horses and mules for 90 hours in a car studded, sides and bottom, with heavy nails, which maimed or killed all the animals, a Georgia railway has been made defendant in a suit for damages. The animals had been transferred from their original car and were in another which had nails sticking out all around.

Chick's Curious Upbringing. A little Andalusian chicken owned by a Kelson farmer has had a curious upbringing so far. A pigeon recently built its nest about fourteen feet from the ground at Floors Home farm, and on the nest being examined the bird was found to have hatched the Andalusian chicken, the chick's mother having apparently deposited the egg in the pigeon's nest. Then the chicken was given to the bantam hen, which has taken to the young bird as if it had been its own.

Few Cities in India.

There are few cities in India. Its stupendous population consists of farm laborers. India is one vast farm—one almost interminable stretch of fields. It is a beautiful country—beautiful rivers, beautiful mountains. It is a land of abundant life. The jungles are full of animals, the air is alive with birds and fowls of almost all kinds, the waters are alive with fish. Vegetable life is abundant and varied.

Whatever Thy Hand Findeth.

"I have been a great deal happier," she said at last, "since I've given up thinking about what is easy and pleasant and being discontented because I could not have my own will. Our life is determined for us—and it makes the mind very free when we give up wishing and only think of bearing what is laid upon us, and doing what is given us to do."—George Eliot.

Was Suspicious.

"That was suspicious," said Senator Newlands, in an address in Reno on irrigation. "That was as suspicious on our opponents' part as the action of the railroad conductor. A passenger, having lost his ticket, paid this conductor in cash, and then said: 'Why do you put half my fare in your coat pocket and the other half in your trousers?' 'Well, the company's got to have something, ain't it?' was the reply."

Unfounded Suspicion.

"You don't look as if you'd ever had anything to do with water in all your born days," said the hard-fisted woman standing inside the kitchen door. "Nevertheless, ma'am," replied Tuford Knutt, stiffening himself up and speaking in a tone of insulted dignity, "when I was a young man I run a ferry for a whole year!"—Youth's Companion.

The War Game.

War is an extremely simple game. A number of armed men are sicked upon another body of armed men, and they engage in the highly exciting and diverting sport of maiming and slaying one another. The contestant which can slaughter the most combatants and starve the most non-combatants is adjudged the winner. Simple, is it not?

Freak Potato.

A freak potato was dug up lately in a Belfast garden. The potato, in the course of its growth had forced its way right through the center of a beef shank bone. It had grown to an enormous size too, and was firmly attached to the bone, bulging out both above and below it.

Ended the Dry Spell.

She had a voice like a siren, and when she sang, "Mid play sure, sand palaces, the beam a rome. Be it averse oh wum buld there, snow play sly comb," and so on to the conclusion, there wasn't a dry eye in the room.

Unusual Death.

To fall to death in a seething whirlpool was the fate of two Swiss lovers a few days ago. The couple were visiting the famous Handegg Falls near Melringen when a small bridge over the River Aare collapsed and they fell 240 feet into the whirlpool below.

An Eulogy.

A newspaper, in speaking of a deceased citizen, said: "We knew him as old Ten Per Cent.—the more he had the less he spent—the more he got the less he lent—he's dead—we don't know where he went; but if his soul to heaven is sent—he'll own the harp and charge 'em rent."

The Way to His Heart.

The Woman's Home Companion has been collecting the favorite recipes of husbands. The results show that of all dishes American men like best of all strawberry shortcake and chicken pie.

Sure To Be Found.

Nothing seems so hopelessly lost, when it is lost, as a heart; yet nothing, when it is lost, is by the experience of the centuries so absolutely certain of recovery.—Puck.

Inexplicable.

One of the strangest things in this world is why the kind of woman who is proud of her intellectuality nearly always marries a man who likes to tinker with sick chickens.

Long Distance Camera.

The most successful thing which has been recently introduced in the way of a long distance camera is one which makes use of reflectors inside the camera to get the enlarged object.

A Great Truth.

BABE'S TOMB FOUND RATTLESNAKE DEN

Cannot Change Resting Place of Child Until Colony of Reptiles Is Exterminated.

New Orleans, La.—A battle to the death with a den of rattlesnakes will be necessary before a baby's grave can be removed from beneath the crumbling ruins of Fort McComb, near here, when workmen begin their operations next year preliminary to the erection of the proposed $75,000 club house of the Louisiana Motor league.

The site of the old fort is a wild and weird spot. The moss-covered structures have crumbled away, leaving the large rooms, areaways, tunnels and underground chambers to the hundreds of venomous reptiles, spiders and lizards.

Snakes Infest Tomb.

In the shadow of the walls of the fort a plain white headstone marks the grave of the infant of Sergeant Smith, which was born in 1888 and lived five weeks. A single plank serves for the primitive drawbridge that once aided soldiers in crossing the moat, now a ditch of mud the water teeming with slimy moccasins.

Rattlesnakes, seven feet long, with innumerable rattles, have been killed recently by fishermen near the fort. It is said that if a stone is thrown into the "chamber of death," where the big rattlers have their home the sounds of hissing and the shirring of rattles resemble the noise made by arousing a monster swarm of bees.

CRAB BITES FAMILY GUEST

Tethered to a Table Leg, His Crab-ship Starts Something During Dinner Hour.

Chelsea, S. I.—Do not let your little boy make a living toy of a hard-shell crab, you can never tell what will happen. John Kane, who lives on Decker avenue, caught some hard-shell crabs and his son John, five years old, appropriated the largest one, tied a string to it and amused himself by watching it crawl backward. When he wearied of this amusement small Johnnie tethered the crab to a leg of the dining-room table and soon forgot all about it.

Kane had his brother-in-law, William Tennyson, to a crab-meat supper

Crab Bites Guest.

Suddenly Tennyson let out a yell, sprang into the air, tipping the table onto two legs, and hopped around the room. "What's the matter, William?" cried Mr. and Mrs. Kane, who feared Tennyson had gone mad. "A scorpion! A scorpion!" it stung me! I'm a dead man!" shouted Tennyson. "Oh, that's my crab!" exclaimed Johnnie delightedly. "I forgot about it. Give it to me." His papa "give it to him"—where it would do the most good.

Your Money Back for the Asking. You Promise Nothing.

We are so confident that we can furnish relief for indigestion and dyspepsia that we promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who uses it according to directions who is not perfectly satisfied with the results. We exact no promises and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely nothing could be fairer. We are located right here where you live, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. If they don't please you tell us and we will quickly return your money. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. Three sizes 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store G. S. Varden & Son.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

Charles Reese, a Clark county farmer, bought a three year old Shorthorn steer that weighed 2,100 pounds and measured 19 hands in height. He paid 53-4 cents per pound for it. It was shipped to the Cincinnati Stock Yards and is said to have been the largest beef ever sent to that market.

Richmond Climax: "Mr. J. B. Parkes, of Kingston neighborhood, sold his cattle last week to a buyer for an Eastern house. He had about 100 head and it was an extra good lot, though not of extra size, averaging about 1,400 pounds. Price 7 cents—the best price we have heard of lately."

It will be very gratifying to the Bourbon county sheep growers to know that Federal Inspector A. J. Payne informed the Kentucky Live Stock Sanitary Board that he had recommended the raising of the quarantine on Kentucky sheep by April 1. The quarantine was put on on account of the prevalence of scab, Dr. Payne said that all counties except a few, this disease had nearly disappeared along the Virginia border line, and in these it might be stamped out by April 1.

The price paid for Castleton Stock Farm in Fayette county by David M. Lee and his associates was $225,000, according to reliable information received from New York Monday night by a prominent turfman, who has been in touch with the negotiations which resulted in the sale of the noted stock farm. It is understood that Mr. Lee and some of the gentlemen interested with him in the purchase of the property will arrive in Lexington shortly after the horse sales in New York to look over the property and arrange to take possession at the time stipulated.

The first attempt to breed Percheron horses south of the Ohio river is to be made by Henry T. Brown & Co., of Lexington, who have just established a breeding plant to be known as Cloverdale Farm, eight miles out from Lexington on the Paris pike, at interurban station No. 13. The Percheron horse, which originated in France, is used principally as a draught horse, and is much in demand for heavy hauling in cities and towns. The firm has already purchased a number of Percheron mares and stallions in Illinois and Iowa, and they are now at the farm. Another car load is expected within the next ten days. Twenty three and four year old jacks, and fifteen yearlings have also been received at the farm in the last few days.

Avoiding Hasty Opinions. Doctor—"I don't understand your case at all. We must wait for the post-mortem examination."

Doesn't Care for Soup. Wilson Dunaway says his wife poured hot soup on him. There are a number of methods for disposing of soup, but this strikes us as the best yet suggested.
